

Arnett Tops List of State Best Comp Attorneys

When injured workers go looking for an attorney to assist them in their workers' compensation claim, there is no shortage to choose from. However, one local attorney stands out, not only in the region, but in the state when it comes to assisting injured employees in obtaining benefits from Kentucky's workers' compensation insurance carriers.

Local attorney, William Grover Arnett, has been listed as one of the top 20% workers' compensation attorneys based on the claims won for his clients between January 1st 2006 and July 31st 2007, according to a report in the Kentucky Gazette. During this time period, Arnett's success of winning workers' compensation claims placed him inside the top twenty percent (20%) in the state of the top one-hundred and fifty (150) attorneys who won the most claims.

Arnett said, "I am proud of my record of helping injured workers and their families. The villain is not the employer. The villain is not "business." The villain is the insurance company, seeking excessive profits by breaking promises at the insured worker's expense. I am proud that I am able to stand as a watchdog to stop insurance companies from weaseling out of their promises to working families."

Arnett who has been practicing law for 18 years, struck out on his own sixteen years ago this month to open his own practice in Salyersville. He is a graduate of Alice Lloyd College and Northern Kentucky University's Salmon P. Chase College of Law. Arnett is also a member of the Board of Trustees of the College of the Ozarks, and a board member of Kentucky's Worker's Injured Litigation Group. He is also a member of the Kentucky Bar Association, Kentucky Justice Association, and American Trial Lawyers of America.
